I am Penarth born and have worked in the graphic and printing industry for over forty years. Since 2008 I have devoted my time to fine art, working in watercolour, I now teach and demonstrate in this beautiful medium. My inspiration has developed from a love of Penarth, my home town and it's history, and a strong sense of my Welsh heritage.

Cards, Prints and Original artwork will be available.

Guy Wooles BA (Hons) - Guy worked for the Welsh Arts Council and a design company before achieving an honours degree in Fine Art in Context. His final year project involved sending sculpted newspaper "penguins" around the world and documenting their travels online. The North Pole being one of the locations! Guy paints exotic wildlife as well as domestic pets and the 'Penarth penguins'. He has recently been 'playing' with Pop Art.

I have lived in Penarth for 39 years. I love the sea, so this suits me living right on the coast. I have painted for well over 20 years now, and the subject for a lot of my paintings are seascapes. To capture the sea in its various moods really inspires me to paint. I also do landscapes, especially of local interest. I hope you enjoy looking at my art.

Oil painting is the backbone of my work, backed up with sketching trips in Penarth and out and about in the Vale of Glamorgan. This year I have been drawn to the characterful churches that often form the centrepiece of the small villages that dot the Vale.

Working in oils, pen and ink or watercolour I have a variety of dramatic and moody landscapes, inspired by the rugged Welsh countryside. These are complemented by a series of figure drawings, including nudes, portraits and musician drawings, drawn from life to best capture the character of the 'sitter'.

11 - Iano Premier

33 Grove Place, Penarth. CF64 2LB.

Giuliano Premier, is a Penarth based artist who's work is usually figurative, typically from imagination and develops iteratively through drawing. It often presents an ill-defined narrative, soaked in life's many absurdities. The work pays homage to satire and caricature but leaves ample space for interpretation.

11 - Ann Davis ~ Ceramics

33 Grove Place, Penarth. CF64 2LB.

All my ceramics are individually hand built using slabs of either porcelain or stoneware clays making pieces that can be functional. An important part of the process is the creation of different textures with contrasting colours in order to achieve subtle and interesting surface patterns to reflect my interest with textiles.

10 - Anne Bowsher

Open Saturday and Sunday only

12 Cherwil Road, Penarth CF64 3PE.

My interest in art started years ago when I studied ceramics at college, 20 years later I took up painting mainly using oils and watercolour. The inspiration for my work comes from my love of the Cornish and Welsh landscapes and I also enjoy painting still life compositions.

I work at home in my garden studio.

9 - Sandra Arthur

Open Friday and Saturday only

71 Plymouth Road. Penarth CF64 3DD.

When I retired five years ago I began drawing and painting. I have joined local art groups and paint at home and outside in the landscape. I relish the process of learning and paint in a variety of styles and media. I have attended courses to help me understand how to apply particular techniques. I have recently begun to explore oil painting. I'm looking forward to this opportunity to share with you my sketchbook preparation and some of my recent completed work.

Originally from Japan, I am a paper-cut artist, illustrator and graphic designer, based in Penarth. 'Light and Shadow', this is a fundamental element of my artwork. My artwork is narrative, inspired by the flora and fauna. The local Welsh meadows, hedgerows, woodland and coasts are my treasure box to give me inspirations. The original images are also used as stencils to create screen prints on paper and fabric, and laser-cut pieces and other digital graphic work.

I am a photographer and artist residing in the Vale of Glamorgan. My mixed media work is based on the plants, wildlife and beautiful scenery which surrounds us. I particularly enjoy combining photography and various other forms of printing.

Jill Schoenmann

I like experimenting in different media such as Oil, Acrylics and Water colour. Also Lino printing, Embroidery, and Enamelling, and anything really that excites me. I like three dimensional work too. I will be showing examples of my work in most of them, as well as cards and prints.

Annie Schulp

After years of making quilts, I have a huge store of fabric which has been donated, acquired and salvaged. I am inspired by the sea, sky and landscapes of my surroundings and working with fabric and stitch allows me to express my creativity whilst making small inroads into my stash.

COD Glass -Cathy co-owns, runs and teaches glass courses at Glass By Design. Her work can be found here and is inspired by everything she loves: Colour, Sport, Landmarks, Games, Music and particularly play on words! She likes to keep the 3D effect on the glass, usually requiring three firings. She is inspired to keep experimenting with glass particularly for bespoke commissions.

Gorgeous Glass Ltd -Stained Glass artist, Angelina has been working in glass for 25 years. She is inspired by our architectural and coastal heritage making a range of stained glasswall panels, up-stands and window hangings. Much of her work combines metal and wire work to create real statement pieces.

Glass demonstrations will be given throughout the weekend.

I am an embroidery artist and sewing tutor. I have recently completed a collection of stitched pictures based on original sketches and photographs of shops and scenes from Victorian and Edwardian Penarth. They were recently exhibited at the Contemporary Textiles Fair in London and Penarth Pier Pavilion. I begin with old photographs and my own sketches and watercolours, then set about interpreting them using a combination of collage applique, free-motion, and hand embroidery techniques. I like each piece to tell a story about the people and events included in the subject material. Where possible, I like to incorporate vintage fabrics sourced from my local town. Sometimes my work is unashamedly nostalgic but it always has heart!
